

SEMINAR AS PART OF THE 124TH SESSION OF THE
INTERNATIONAL COFFEE COUNCIL

COFFEE: HOW SUSTAINABLE IS OUR FUTURE?

25 MARCH 2019
KENYATTA INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION
CENTRE
HARAMBEE AVENUE
NAIROBI
KENYA

ED-2297/19

BACKGROUND

As part of the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda, availability of sustainable coffee and prosperity for the entire chain depends on solutions and resources available to achieve optimum productivity, quality, efficiency in a conducive business environment while pursuing economic, social and environmental sustainability.

This Seminar will bring together top 'coffeepreneurs' and experts from Africa and around the world including governments, farms, traders, industry, academia, research and international organizations - who will be sharing their knowledge and experience, showcasing innovations and interacting with the audience to identify viable and thought-provoking solutions for a sustainable, prosperous future for all coffee stakeholders and consumers. Special attention will be given to the fundamentally important aspects of profitability along the value chain, in line with the thematic focus of the International Coffee Organization for coffee year 2018/19.

This one-day Seminar will be interactive and conducted with panel sessions in Davos style*. It will address the most pressing coffee sustainability issues and identify recommendations for concrete follow-up and action by public and private stakeholders. It will also be part of and contribute to the consultative process launched by the ICO to identify innovative solutions to address coffee price levels and sustainability to be submitted to coffee sector CEOs at the Forum planned in London during the 125th International Coffee Council in September 2019.

This Seminar is a concrete example of the collaboration between the ICO and the Global Coffee Platform (GCP), as envisaged within the MoU signed in September 2017, and the host Government of Kenya.

* Davos style: each speaker makes a 5-minute introduction, followed by discussions in the panel and with the audience. No powerpoint presentations or formal speeches will be used, to foster an open debate and lively interaction.
